

We see no reason to weaken the NJ law since it is working so well for residents/consumers - why would we want to give in to the demands of telemarketers?